Sean Williams is an award-winning, #1 best-selling author for readers of all ages. His long list of works includes original series, novels, short stories and poems that have been translated into multiple languages for readers around the world. He is a senior lecturer in creative writing at Flinders University and recipient of the Australian Antarctica Division's Art Fellowship. A past winner of the Young Composer Award, he also pursues a parallel career as a composer in the field of experimental ambience, with his tenth album as "theadelaidean" released in 2022 by Projekt Records. His work has been played in venues as diverse as the National Museum of Australia and Slingsby's Hall of Possibility, and has featured in worldwide performances by experimental UnPiano Trio. Recently, he created original soundscapes for exhibitions by visual artists Thom Buchanan, Chris Houghton and Julia Robinson.
